You ar most definitely a THIEF! I do not even need to come to the defense of my husband Steve Paxton. His professionalism stands for itself. I will comment as a mother and say how upsetting it is to see someone steal a photograph with my child in it. Have some dignity and respect for yourself and others and take your own pictures. At this point you should hang up your camera and call it a day. As I know of no true photographer who has ever stolen a picture. We do not have a single picture gracing the walls of our home that has not been taken by us.

This image needs to be removed immediately. It is a clear case of copyright violation. The worst part is that it was blatantly stolen from Steve Paxton, a man of great vision and talent. Do the right thing!

YOU ARE A THIEF!!!!!!

You did not take this picture, you stole it from Steve Paxton. Your version is over processed and cropped to cut off his name paxtonprints.com/index.php?showimage=290

It's hard enough to come up with original imaged with out jerks like you stealing them from good photographers
